

How to select which paint to use

Wattyl Solagard offers a variety of paint finishes from Masonry Matt to Gloss. It will depend on your personal preference on which finish you choose. You can try using more than one finish e.g for walls use Low Sheen, use Gloss for trims and Satin for gutters and downpipes. Or try one of Solagard's Texture products for a more varied finish to create dimension and character.

Solagard Masonry Matt is for masonry walls. Its low gloss level is uniquely formulated to help hide surface imperfections and irregularities over large areas such as concrete or rendered walls.

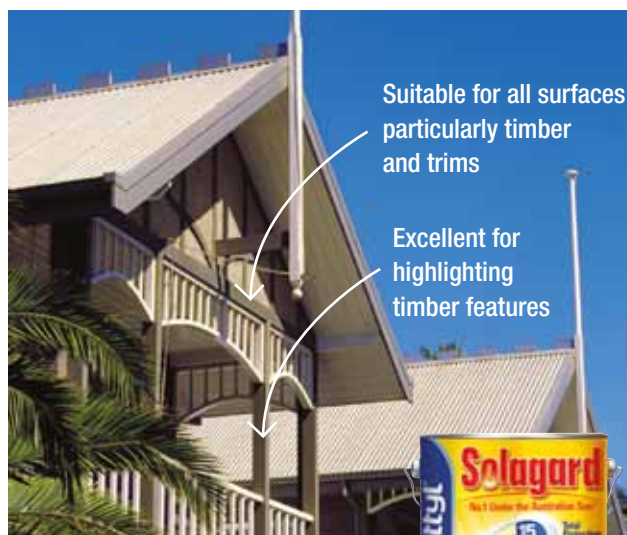

Masonry Matt resists dirt pick up and surface mould, to help keep surfaces looking better for longer, particularly on south facing masonry walls where mould is more prevalent.

Solagard Low Sheen's gloss level provides the best balance between appearance, dirt resistance and flexibility for greater protection.

Solagard Satin provides a smooth, lustrous satin finish for areas such as walls and trims. This sheen level has been matched to Colorbond® for a uniform appearance.

Solagard Gloss is designed for easy application in a variety of conditions, and it dries to a rich, even gloss finish.

TIP - Coat window frames sparingly in contact areas. To avoid sticking move windows within 30 minutes and again in the first 24 hours.

Wattyl Solagard Natural Stone Finish is a uniquely formulated exterior acrylic paint designed to imitate the natural variations of stone. Depending on application techniques, Wattyl Solagard Natural Stone can create a variety of decorative effects or finishes.

Wattyl Solagard Ready Render Fine/Medium texture finish is a durable premixed acrylic polymer texture coating that provides a low profile sandy textured finish. It can achieve four different fine to medium texture finishes using different application techniques.

TIP - If you want to change the colour, overcoat with Wattyl Solagard Low Sheen or Masonry Matt, this will also provide extra protection.

Wattyl Solagard Ready Render Coarse Finish is a durable premixed acrylic polymer texture coating. It provides high build, full coverage texture finishes which vary through different application techniques to achieve either bagged or uniform render style finishes.
